

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS

Faith Curlists Under Fire in the House Yesterday.

CASE OF CRIPPLED CHILD

Japt. Cardwell Offers an Instance in His Speech in Opposition to the Scientists—Vote Will Be Taken To-Day.

The only matter of sweeping public interest in the Legislature yesterday was the filing by Judge Campbell of his answer to the charges made against him, and the paper was ordered printed.

The House devoted the remainder of its session to a discussion of the Harvey bill to regulate practice of medicine and surgery, known as the osteopathy bill, and Mr. Bland, of Portsmouth, offered an amendment to exempt the Christian Scientists from the operations of the bill. The bill will likely pass as it came from the Senate. There were few bills offered in either house.

The Senate was in session only a little while, and beyond giving some bills their constitutional readings, did nothing of interest. There was a measure offered by Mr. Barkdale designed to facilitate the collection of taxes, and it was referred.

The House.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock by Speaker Ryan, and prayer was offered by Rev. P. B. Price, of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Ware, of Amherst, offered the answer of Judge C. J. Campbell to the charges upon which the General Assembly will vote upon the question of his removal from office, and it was ordered to be spread upon the journal and printed for use of the members. The document is a voluminous one, and is printed fully, elsewhere in The Times-Dispatch.

There were no bills offered, the only things coming in under rule 33 being the Campbell answer, and a petition from citizens of York county, offered by Mr. Starnes, favoring the passage of the Mann liquor bill. On motion of Mr. Lee, the conference on the general revenue bill, were permitted to sit during the sessions of the House, and the body proceeded to the consideration of its calendar.

The bill offered by Mr. Whitehead to provide for a dedication of streets and walkways in cities, towns and counties, whenever a subdivision thereto has been laid out, and lots or building sites have been sold for improvement thereon, and to confirm and vest rights therein heretofore granted, caused some discussion. It was defended by Mr. Whitehead, and fought by Mr. Sipe, both the members making strong speeches.

The bill was finally recommitted on motion of the patron, and the House took a recess of fifteen minutes.

OSTEOPATHY BILL.

The body was called to order again at 12:30 P. M. and the chair laid before the House the Harvey Senate bill known as the osteopathy measure, which was set as a special and continuing order for that hour.

Mr. Bland, of Portsmouth, offered an amendment exempting Christian Scientists from the operations of the bill, and the debate opened up on the old lines in lead earnest.

Mr. Bland was the only member of the General Laws Committee voting against reporting the Harvey bill, and

He led the fight for protecting the Christian Scientists.

MR. SIPE SPEAKS.
Mr. Sipe, of Rockingham, was the speaker for the amendment, and he declared that it should be adopted in the interest of religious liberty.

The speech of Mr. Sipe was one of characteristic force and strength, and at times he rose to beautiful flights of eloquence, as he appealed to the House for the broadest exercise of religious and personal liberty. He had said he would not vote for a Christian Scientist, and this brought Dr. Ware's to his feet to ask why it was then that the gentleman from Rockingham was willing to trust them to practice upon other people. This quick answer was: "Simply because I do not send for an Episcopalian to pray for me."

He said that he was willing to accord to every man the right to his own private or physician, and would never give his vote for any bill curtailing religious liberty.

Mr. Heermans, of Montgomery, spoke against the amendment and in favor of the bill as it came down from the Senate. He made an able argument, and was followed closely by his colleagues.

Mr. Wallace, of Richmond, followed Mr. Heermans, and spoke strongly against the amendment. Mr. Cardwell made one of the strongest speeches against the bill, and a number of interesting and amusing colloquies arose between the speaker and Messrs. Newhouse and Sipe.

Mr. Cardwell cited a pathetic case in his county of a child who was a cripple for life, because a Christian Scientist was called in to treat a broken limb. Mr. Newhouse desired the name of the child, but Mr. Cardwell withheld it out of deference to the feelings of the parents, and Mr. Newhouse said that if the child should be produced in the House he would vote for the bill.

Mr. Cummings spoke for the amendment, and Mr. Westmoreland, spoke earnestly, and at some length against the amendment, and at the conclusion of his remarks, which were loudly cheered, the House at 2 P. M. adjourned until 10 o'clock to-day.

The Senate.

There was a small attendance of Senators when Lieutenant-Governor Willard rapped the body to order at noon yesterday.

As usual, the reading of the journal of the preceding legislative day was dispensed with.

A number of House bills were reported to the Senate read a first time, and referred to the proper committees.

The call of committees developed nothing in new bills or resolutions being offered.

Mr. Claytor asked two days' leave of absence for Clerk Button. Granted.

THE CAMPBELL ANSWER.
Mr. Massie asked to lay before the Senate the answer of Judge C. J. Campbell, of Amherst, to the charges filed against him. Senator Massie asked that the answer be spread on the journal of the Senate, and that two hundred copies be printed. There being no objection, the matter took this course.

Mr. McIlwaine thereupon moved to dispense with the reading of the answer. Adopted.

Mr. Barkdale, of Halifax, offered a bill to amend the Code in relation to the collection of taxes, so as to secure prompt and more efficient collection.

It was given its first reading, and went to the Finance Committee. The House and Senate bills on the calendar on their third reading were all passed by on motion of Mr. Harvey, of Patrick, there being too few Senators present to take them up.

MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

On motion of Mr. Halsey, of Lynchburg, the Senate joint resolution proposing to amend section 110 of the Constitution in relation to commissioners of revenue and Senate bill 121, another joint resolution proposing an amendment to section 119 of the Constitution, were ordered to their engrossment and made a special order for 12:15 Wednesday.

These House bills were given their second reading.

To amend section 587 of the Code, as to license revoked by local option.

To provide a charter for the town of Warrenton.

Relating to cases before the Court of Appeals from Craig county.

House bill No. 78, to amend the charter of Newport News, was on Mr. Tyler's motion recommitted to the Committee for Courts of Justice.

The House bills proposing amendments to the charter of the city of Danville and of the town of South Boston, were passed by.

ORDERED TO ENGROSSMENT.
These Senate bills were given their second reading and ordered to engrossment.

To authorize supervisors of any county to adjust and secure judgments against any treasurer.

Legislating certain election in Prince Edward county.

Joint resolution proposing amendment to section 110 of the Constitution.

To regulate the professional nursing of the sick.

To create a board of sinking fund commissioners for Gloucester.

To amend section 374 of Code in relation to courts-martial, etc.

To require clerks of Circuit Courts, etc., to send to Secretary of Commonwealth list of certain officers.

Appropriating $150 to pay for policies of insurance on Governor's Mansion.

NEW METHOD OF COLLECTING TAXES

Senator Barkdale, of Halifax, yesterday offered a bill relative to the collection of taxes. He claims that the bill offers inducements to treasurers to collect closely, and that its effect will be to greatly restrict delinquencies. The plan proposed by the Halifax Senator is based upon the theory that the amount first collected is the easiest to collect and the last third the hardest. He proposes to give the collectors two and a half per centum upon the first third collection; five per cent on the second third, and six per cent on the third and last. The present law gives the collector five per cent on collections up to $15,000, and two and a half per cent on the remainder.

CARRIAGE MAKERS MEET HERE TO-DAY

The Southern Vehicle Association will meet in this city to-day in annual session. Many delegates are already here, and the total number expected is not less than two hundred. The sessions will be held in the annex of Murphy's, and will begin this morning by an address of welcome from Mayor Taylor. Two or three sessions a day will be held throughout the convention, and between the meetings the members will get a chance to see the city. The association selected Richmond because they wanted to have an opportunity of visiting the many places of historic interest here, and of knowing the people. The people extend them a cordial welcome.

MR. PHILIP BRUCE AT OLD NINES

Secretary Frank P. Brent, of the State Board of Education, received a letter yesterday from his old schoolmate, Mr. Philip Bruce, who, with his family, is at Nimes, France, where he stands to-day the model from which Jefferson took the Virginia Capitol. Mr. Bruce writes most interestingly of the Maison Carree, the Capitol model. He says it is very small, but of fine proportions. The Virginia Capitol could be placed in the Virginia Capitol building, and it is the most graceful and beautiful structure he has ever seen. It seems too beautifully proportioned to have been made altogether by man.

Mr. Bruce writes also of a balcony at Nimes and the many historic structures there. He is delighted with the place, saying it alone is worth a trip to Europe.

AN EGG HUNT

One to Be Given at the Methodist Institute.

A good time is in store for the children of the Methodist Institute and all others who may attend the big egg hunt that is being arranged by Mrs. Womble and her committee to be held at the Mission on Easter Monday.

Rev. George Willy talked to the children yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and there were twelve or fourteen of the best scholars who were at the altar for prayer. This result follows the noble work of the teachers in the Mission school.

The Lady Board of Visitors meets Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

REV. DR. MOORE ON THE FIELD

The Rev. Gordon B. Moore, D. D., the distinguished professor of Furman University, who has just come here to assume charge of the work of the Anti-Slavery League of Virginia, made his first appearance in the pulpit of Richmond on Sunday.

In the morning Dr. Moore preached at the Grace Street Baptist Church.

'VARSITY LOST GAME

Defeated by Syracuse by a Score of Eight to Seven.

SCORE TIED IN EIGHTH

Virginia Tried Two Substitute Pitchers and Lost Out—Harris Made Good Showing and Allowed but Five Hits.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., April 6.—Virginia tried two substitute pitchers in today's game against Syracuse, and the New Yorkers won out 8 to 7. Winston stayed in the box but one inning, Syracuse securing two hits and three runs. His successor, Harris, full-back on the varsity foot-ball eleven, showed up surprisingly well, and had he received good support, would have pulled the game out of the fire. He allowed but five hits and had ten strike-outs to his credit. The Southemors did some hard hitting throughout the contest, but most of it was inopportune.

On a wild throw to the plate in the eighth they were enabled to tie the score. Burrill, of Syracuse, opened the ninth with a triple, and scored on a fielder's choice. Baker tallied a moment later on Cook's error. Left-handed Virginia was able to get but one man across the plate. The heavy hitting of Mason and Council and the difficult catches of Heffernan and Cooke were the features of the contest. The score:

ASHLAND, VA., April 6.—Randolph-Macon defeated Fredericksburg College this afternoon before a large crowd. The game was always in the hands of the home team, who won as they liked, at the same time playing loose ball. Leake did great work. His control of the ball was excellent and his speed very fast. Smith, of the visitors, played about with this. This is the first college league game the home men have played. The fielding feature was Green's playing third for the home team, a double from Green to Thomas and two doubles for Fredericksburg.

Award Was Excessive.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The United States Supreme Court to-day decided the cases of the seizure of a number of fishing smacks during the Spanish war. The lower court having decided that the seizures were illegal, the only question before the court was the question of compensation. The court held the award was excessive.

MR. GAINES MAY LOSE

Fight Over Woman May Cost Congressman His Seat.

AT REQUEST OF GRANT

She is a First Cousin of the General and West Virginia Representative

Refuses to Recommend That the Postoffice Be Taken from Her

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, No. 1417 E Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., April 6th.

A fight over a woman who is a postmaster, and that woman a first cousin of General U. S. Grant, may have serious results in a political way in the Third West Virginia District. It may cause a change of Congressmen in the district, and may even be a factor in the fight for the seat of Hon. N. B. Scott in the United States Senate.

During the first term, or may be the second, of General Grant, the daughter of his father's brother, Roswell Grant, who was a well-known man in Kanawha county, W. Va., applied for the postmasterhip of St. Albans, a small town on the Kanawha River, a few miles west of Charleston. The lady, Mrs. Baldwin, was in needy circumstances, and instead of asking aid of her eminent cousin, humble office she sought. How well he helped her may be imagined from the fact that the entry of her appointment, made in the records of the Postoffice Department, state, "Appointed at the request of President Grant."

Mrs. Baldwin has held the position through every administration since that time. Mr. Cleveland had two chances to remove her, but never thought of doing so. But here lately there has been on the part of the postmaster a refusal to do "and still refuses," as the lawyers say. As a result, there is bitter feeling against him in Kanawha county on the part of some of the Republican politicians, and he is being steadily refused to do "and still refuses," as the lawyers say.

MAY RUN FOR SENATE.

There is talk of running Gaines for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Scott, Caldwell, a millionaire, of Huntington, is Scott's most formidable competitor, "apparently," but he is not at all satisfactory to a large portion of the people who are opposed to Scott. I have heard it whispered that an arrangement might be made whereby Gaines would be substituted for Caldwell, and Mr. Scott would be elected to Congress to succeed Gaines. Edwards has always opposed the nomination of Gaines, and in fact, of every other man except himself. He is something of a freak in politics. A few years ago he defeated for a nomination a man of a college mate of Roosevelt, but he has since been known as a joke which never grows stale. He would make a picturesque Congressman—a Ham Lewis with the brains left out.

VIRGINIA GIRL MISSING.

The police of this city have been asked to look out for Miss Minnie Reedy, who disappeared from this city about twenty-five days ago. Miss Reedy is eighteen years old, and her home is at Timberville, Va. She was employed at No. 429 C Street, N. W., from where she is reported to have disappeared. The parents of the young woman have communicated with the Rev. S. P. Pogue, of No. 2909 N Street, concerning her whereabouts.

A sight-seeing party, which arrived in Washington Saturday night consists of twenty-five young ladies from the Ward Seminary for young ladies, of Nashville, Tenn. The party is stopping at the Ebbitt House, and is in charge of Professor J. D. Blanton, the principal of the school. The young ladies will remain here until Wednesday or Thursday, when they will go to Richmond, Norfolk and other points in Virginia.

INSTRUCTION IN STRATEGY.

The Secretary of War has directed the first class of cadets in the United States Military Academy, numbering ninety-four members, to proceed to the battlefield of Gettysburg, Pa., about April 20th, for three days' instruction in strategy and tactics.

The cadets will be under the direction of the professor and four instructors of the department of engineering at the academy, and will be provided with the necessary medical attendance and supplies.

Caught the Wrong Man.

Editor of The Times-Dispatch: The mulatto, Aleck Davis, confined in jail here, charged with the diabolical act of killing Conductor Luther Robinson, is more than likely not guilty. It was first reported that he was a tramp, and that Mr. Robinson identified him fully before his death, which report has been corrected, and it is now known that Aleck Davis has been working in the Norfolk and Western Railway yards in Roanoke, and is a resident of Lynchburg, where and is looked upon as a quiet, inoffensive citizen, and from appearance, manner and conversation, of Aleck's wife and father-in-law, who visited him in jail on the evening of the 4th, he is related and connected with the best class of his race in Lynchburg, and it is now thought that the "suspect" can prove a complete alibi. May the authorities and detectives hunt down the real transgressor and punish him as he deserves, is the wish of good citizens. To this end a big reward should be offered.
